Setting a PowerPoint Slide Show to Loop Continuously

PowerPoint slideshows are not always used by a live presenter. Slideshows are often set to loop continuously so they can run unattended. They can contain all the content that the viewer might need to know -- such as information about a product that is being demonstrated at a trade show.

Change the size of your slides - Office Support

PowerPoint may prompt you about scaling your content. Choose one of the following options: Scale: Select this option to decrease or increase the size of your slide content. When scaling to a smaller slide size, this could make your content appear smaller, but you'll be able to see all content on your slide. Don't Scale: Select this option to maintain the size of your slide content. Choosing
